

Paid Family Leave Policies by U.S. State

As of 2018, only four U.S. states have policies currently in place making access to paid family leave mandatory. Two other states and the District of Columbia have passed legislation that have not yet gone into effect.

